What is Course reserves?

Course reserves is a collection printed and electronic material that teachers at the University of Iceland have requested be made accessible to students enrolled in certain courses. Course reserves is situated on shelves opposite the service desk on the 4th floor of the library.

How are Course reserves organised?

Course reserves materials are on open shelves. The university schools are arranged alphabetically and each school is divided into faculties. You will find the course you are looking for on a marked shelf within the relevant faculty. Dvds are stored behind the service desk on the 4th floor, so they need to be requested from the librarian on duty.

How do I use Course reserves?

Course reserves items are only intended for students at the University of Iceland. The books are accessible on open shelves so that students can find the text-books they need themselves.

How is reasonable access ensured?

It is very important that all books that are only for use within the library are returned to the right shelf so that other students can find them. The library has several copies of some books which may be located outside Course reserves and available for borrowing.

Where do I return items from Course reserves?

If the book is marked for use within the library it can be placed on a book cart situated by the service desk on the 4th floor. If the book is marked with a loan period, it is returned to the service desk on the 2nd floor like other library items.

Can I reserve a book or renew a loan?

Course reserves items can not be reserved. A loan can only be renewed with written permission from the teacher.

For how long can I borrow a book?

All books in Course reserves have markers of different colours. They denote different loan restrictions:

- Red marker: For use on site
- Pink marker: One-day loan
- Blue marker: Three-day loan
- Yellow marker: Seven-day loan
- Green marker: Two-week loan

Please consider the needs of your fellow students.

It is extremely important that all books are returned on time.

A daily fine is collected for late returns.
